My Dear Sir. I have your favor announcing that the Republican League of Mount Pleasant has elected me its vice-president.

I accept the honor with pleasure.

As soon as the nomination for President already made by the people, shall be ratified by the convention at St. Louis, I trust your League will enter visorously upon the work of restoring the prosperty and happiness of our country. The protection of the American market for American labor, instead of its surrender to the labor of other lands, is to be the warry of the campaign. Every true citizen, native or naturalized, must now see by the light of experience that there is but one way to accomplish this, and that is by the restoration of the Republican party to the full control of our National Government.

MOUNT VERNON.

The Rev. Edward J. Flynn, rector of the Church of the Sacred Heart, not only celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood, but he had evidence of the esteem which the people have for him by the presence of many of the prominent citizens, who are not members of his church, in the large audience on Wednesday morning. There were also many well-known clergymen present, including the Rev. Edward J. McGlynn, for many years rector of St. Stephen's Church, in New-York City. Many of the visiting clergy had been classmates of Father Flynn, and among them were Archbishop Corrigan, Bishop Farley, of New-York, Bishop Radamacher, of Fort Wayne, Ind.: Bishop John Moore, of Florida; the Revs. Sylvester Malone John M. Kiely, H. Braun, Peter Farrell, Edward McKenna, P. J. Lennon, Thomas McLoughlin, James Rigney, John Keliner, F. H. McCarty, James Rigney, John Kellner, F. H. McCarty, James McTighe, Thomas Donoghue, Dean Harris, of Torongo, and Chancellor William Kittell, of Pittsburg. Solemn high mass was celebrated at 10 a. m., and at 1 o'clock dinner was served in the assembly hall of the parochial school, at which Dean Harris presided. The menu card was bordered with sliver. The literary exercises were held in the afternoon in the locker-room and the music-room, which connect by a wide doorway. Decorations of flowers, plants, flags and lanterns made the entire lower floor of the building attractive. The exercises opened with an invocation by the Rev. James A. McWilliams, following which there was music and an address by Hamilton Wright Mable. The medal for excellent scholarship was presented to Cadet Gabriel A. Ruttkay, and the department medal was awarded to Cadet Edmond Heinisch. The exercises were brought to a close by the presentation of the prizes won in the athletic games of the morning. The military drill and dress parade at 5 o'clock attracted a large assemblage of spectators. The battallon made an excellent appearance and the cadets went through the various evolutions with soldierly precision. The reception in the evening was attended by a brilliant throng of guests from this village and other places, who were entertained with that hospitality for which the academy has long been famous.

From The Louisville Commercial.

The following story, told by Judge Sterling B. Toney, of the Law and Equity Court, in his inimitable manner, is worth preserving as part of the history of the days that followed the war:

"Snortly after the war, in Eufaula, Ala., my old home, Judge John Cochran, my brother-in-law, formed a law partnership with United States Senator James L. Pugh. Both were eminent lawyers, distinguished for their learning and ability, but coming fresh from the sanguinary field of civil strife, and doubtful whether they were to be hanged or not, they were rather timid about resuming the practice of law. However, they formed the partnership and drew up the following brife articles: These articles of parinership witnesseth that Cochran and Pugh have this day formed a partnership to practise law upon the following terms: Fugh on his part agrees to keep Cochran out of the poorhouse, and Cochran on his part agrees to keep Fugh out of the pentientlary. These articles were signed by both. "Their first client was a rich bondholder from Boston, who had come to Eufaula to foreclose a $2,000,000 mortgage upon the Vicksburg and Brunswick Railroad, and he employed Cochran & Pugh Cochran drew up a bill in equity to foreclose, and there being no defence, the mortgagees or bondholders bought in the road. Pugh charged and collected the fee of $10,000. He walked into the scantily furnished office and, throwing down $5,000 in greenbacks on the table, said: Cochran, here is your part of the fee we have charged these Yankee bondholders, and I desire to remind you that I am keeping my part of the contract, for this does not look much like the poorhouse. Cochran, instantly responding, said: Pugh, have you charged those fellows $10,000? Well, I desire to say that, considering the small amount of work that has been done by us. It looks to me that you are skimming right along the edge of the penitentiary, and I shall now have to keep my part of the contract. They at

TWO YOUNG CYCLISTS INJURED.

In Patchogue, Long Island, on Wednesday night, Joseph Gerard, the seven-year-old son of Sherman Gerard, was injured while bicycle riding. In one mother, while with the other he was steering the wheel. In turning a corner he ran into a tree, and he was thrown to the ground. His face and chin were cut and he was otherwise injured. The eleven-year-old son of the Rev. A. E. Colton was thrown from a blevele while riding yesterday, and struck on his head. When picked up he was unconscious, and was taken in charge by a friend, who removed him to his home.

George Schrone, forty-eight years old, a resident of Tomokinsville. Staten Island, died at his home yesterday from injuries received in a trol ey accident on Monday afternoon. Schrone was a driver for Charles App, and was taking a load of furniture to Toopkinsville. While driving in Hay-st., Stapleton, a Staten Island electric car ran into him, throwing stated Island ejectric car ran into him, throwing him from the wagon. He suffered concussion of the brain and other injuries. The Midland Railroad yesterday began the con-struction of its line in Water-st., Stapleton. When it is completed the line will transfer passengers to the Rapid Transit road.

MRS. GARFIELD'S EORTUNE.

From The Washington Post.

From The Washington Poet.

Mrs. Garfield is living quietly at her old home at Mentor, in the suburbs of Cleveland, and the place has been much improved. It is now one of the most beautiful and comfortable farm residences in Ohio, and an ideal place for a quiet, retired life. It is only lifteen minutes on the cars from Cleveland, and less than half an hour's drive from Painesvillo, which is an educational centre, and one of the most attractive as well as one of the most cultured communities in the world.

Mrs. Garfield is a rich woman now, but her wealth came with her sorrow. Her early days, and, in fact, all her life, even up to the death of her husband, were passed in the closest economy, and she was often deprived of the comforts and luxuries that usually pertain to people of her station. General Garfield never had anything but his salary. He was an open-handed man, generous and care ess with his money and was scarcely ever able to make both ende meet. But Mrs. Garfield now has an income of $16,000 as interest from the fund that was raised for her by Cyrus W. Field after the assassination, and a pension from Congress of $5,000, which gives her $21,000 a year to use as she pleases, and she does not spend one-fifth of it. All of the children are well fixed. Modile, the oldest child, is the wife of Stanley Brown, the representative of the Alaska Commercial Company at Washington, James and Harry are practising law in partnership at Cleveland, and are rapidly missing both money and reputations. James is a member of the Ohio State Senate, with an excellent record. They are both splended fellows, and promise to be useful and famous men.
